River and Harbor Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, May 17, 1872.

SENATE.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

The House resolution for final adjournment on the 3d of June was referred to the Committee on Finance.

RIVER AND HARBOR APPROPRIATIONS.

Mr. CHANDLER, from the Committee on Commerce, reported the river and harbor bill, with amendments, and was made the special order for next Tuesday. The following appropriations are increased: Rentwater harbor, Michigan, from $10,000 to $50,000; Calumet harbor, Illinois, from $30,000 to $40,000; Black river harbor, Ohio, from $10,000 to $20,000. The following item was inserted: For removing the Red river raft, $50,000.

STEAMBOAT BILL PASSED.

The House bill to amend the act to provide for greater security of life on vessels propelled in whole or in part by steam was passed.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT AT TOLEDO.

Mr. THURMAN reported from the Judiciary Committee the House bill to provide for holding a United States District Court at Toledo, O., and asked for its immediate consideration.

Mr. TRUMBULL opposed the bill, because, he said, there was no necessity for the court, and it was desired only by a few office seekers and speculators in town lots.

Mr. THURMAN said the Court was required for the convenience of the people and bar of Toledo, and explained that it was to be held by the same Judge who holds the Court at Cleveland.

The bill was passed.

WEST POINT APPROPRIATION.

Mr. SPRAGUE submitted a report of the Committee of Conference on the West Point Appropriation bill, which was concurred in.

HABEAS CORPUS SUSPENSION.

At the expiration of the morning hour the Habeas Corpus Suspension act came up as unfinished business.

Mr. STOCKTON sent up and had read a telegram from Senator Bayard, who was absent on account of illness, expressing the hope that the bill would not be disposed of until Monday, when he expected to be present and discuss it.

Messrs. THURMAN and CASSERLY proposed to postpone the consideration of the bill.

Messrs. CONKLING and MORTON urged Mr. Scott not to consent to a postponement.

Mr. SCOTT then addressed the Senate at length in advocacy of the bill.

Mr. PRATT followed in support of the bill, arguing that its passage was necessary for the protection of loyal colored men.

At the conclusion of Mr. Pratt's speech an order was made, on motion of Mr. SHERMAN, that the pending bill shall be taken up again at 12 M. on Monday, and that the session on Tuesday shall not end until the bill was disposed of.

FORTIFICATION APPROPRIATION.

Mr. COLE, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported without amendment the annual fortification appropriation bill.

REPORT CALLED UP.

Mr. COLE called up the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill, which was agreed to.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SHERMAN moved that the Senate request the House to return the Senate resolution providing for final adjournment on the 29th of May.

Mr. TRUMBULL objected to the motion, and said it was discourteous to the House. That body certainly could be trusted just as well as the Senate to care for the interests of the country.

Mr. STEVENSON objected to any further discussion on the motion, and it went over.

ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. WEST having called up the Army Appropriation bill, it was proceeded with.

Mr. STEWART raised a point of order on the amendment reported by the Committee on Appropriations repealing section 9 of the Army Appropriation act of the 3d of March, 1871, that it was not germane to the bill. The effect of repeal is to allow the Secretary of the Treasury to retain the amounts due by the Government to the various Pacific railroads on account of transportation of troops, freight and mails, and to apply the same to the payment of interest on the bonds of said roads guaranteed by the Government.

The Vice President sustained the point of order, but said he would submit the question to the Senate.

Pending a vote on the question, the Senate went into executive session, and then adjourned.

HOUSE.

HOUSES FOR INDIANS.

Mr. BOLES presented a report of the Conference Committee on the bill to provide houses for the Pottawatamie and Shawnee Indians of Kansas, in Indian Territory. Agreed to.

—A Houston (Texas) special says: The State Republican Convention elected delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, with instructions to vote for Grant and Davis.

—The negotiations between the Government at Versailles and the German Minister, looking to the total evacuation of the remaining French territory now occupied by German troops, are reported progressing favorably.

The leading editorial articles of every London morning paper are devoted to this subject. The delay of the American Senate in acting upon the proposed article is regarded as fatal to it.

—The members of the New York Bar Association and of the Legislature express the opinion that the report of the Barnard impeachment legislation being incomplete is incorrect, but that if a blunder has been made and the proceedings are illegal, an extra session of the Legislature will probably be convened by the Governor for the purpose of taking final action upon the articles.

—The Brooklyn Executive Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic has issued a programme for the observance of Decoration Day. The memorial exercises will be held in the evening at the Tabernacle. The Fougier family inherited six million francs from relatives in France, and the massacre was committed by Louis Berthemy, as heir under the will, aided by two hired assassins accompanying him from France, in order to obtain possession of the entire estate. Berthemy and his accomplices were sent to France for trial.

—A special from Houghton, Mich., says that twelve hundred and fifty miners, of about two thousand who were engaged in the recent strike, are still idle, but keeping quiet. It is asserted by the citizens that the ringleaders of the movement are two recently arrived Cornish men, Gross and Vavian, who are alleged to be members of the Internationals. One hundred and fifty United States troops are now at Houghton, and two additional companies are now on the way from Buffalo.

—Advices from Aspinwall report that when the American steamer Virginius sailed from Aspinwall, on April 26, she was convoyed for twenty miles at sea by the gunboat Kansas, and followed by the Spanish frigate Pizarro, both the latter going out fully prepared for action. No trouble occurred. The Virginius cleared for Puerto Cabello. When the Kansas left the Virginius, the Pizarro was four miles astern and was unable to overtake the Virginius. The latter was compelled to put into Carthagena on the 27th ult., in distress, leaking badly, where she would repair and then proceed. A report prevailed at Aspinwall that there was a Spanish war vessel at Puerto Cabello, two at Laguayra, and another cruising on the coast from Javanill into Puerto Cabello.

MINISTER UNGER, at Vienna, lately gave a soiree to Listz, who played selections from his oratorio of "St. Elizabeth." At another entertainment of this description, Listz and Rubenstein performed the Scherzo and Finale of the Heroic Symphony arranged for four hands.

REVOLTING DETAILS!

WASHINGTON, May 17, 1872.

HORRIBLE MASSACRE.

A report has been received at the War Department, giving details of a massacre by Indians, Mexicans and negroes combined, of persons in charge of a train of supplies en route to Fort Stockton, at Howard's Well, near old Fort Lancaster. The facts, as reported to General Auger by Col. Merritt, of the Ninth Cavalry, under date of April 29, from Clark, are given as follows: On the 20th instant I arrived with the cavalry of my command at Howard's Well, a few hours too late to prevent one of the most horrible massacres that has ever been perpetrated on this frontier. A Mexican train loaded with United States commissary and ordnance stores, on its way from San Antonio to Fort Stockton, was attacked by Indians, plundered and burned. All the people with the train, seventeen souls in all, were either killed or wounded, except one woman. My command buried eleven bodies and brought three wounded men and one woman into this post. Before arriving at the burning train, the first intimation we had of the horrible disaster was the charred and blackened corpses of some of the poor victims, but no one was alive to tell the horrors of the affair. I supposed up to this time that Captain Sheridan, with the infantry of my command, was in camp at Howard's Well, about a mile from the scene of the massacre, and while yet some distance from the point, the smoke of the burning wagons, mistaken for his camp fires, confirmed me in this belief. I knew at least that a sergeant and four men were at the well in charge of forage. The command moved rapidly toward the well, when the sergeant in charge of the detachment at that point was met and pointed out the course the Indians had taken with the animals belonging to the train. In less time than it takes to tell it the trail was found and rapid pursuit at once made by companies A and H of the Ninth Cavalry, commanded respectively by Captain Cooney and Lieutenant Vincent. After following the trail some seven or eight miles the cavalry came upon the Indians in force on the summit of an almost impassible bluff. There a fight occurred, in which, I regret to say, Lieutenant Vincent fell, mortally wounded, while boldly leading and attempting to control his men. He died shortly after returning to camp, about ten o'clock that night. Captain Cooney was painfully, though not seriously, injured by his horse falling while moving at a rapid gait. He, however, remounted and retained his command. The men of his company behaved very well, but being in great part recruits, without experience in Indian fighting, which was the case in Company H to a still greater extent, they squandered their ammunition. The lack of ammunition made a protracted pursuit of the Indians impracticable. A woman who escaped reports that six were killed in the fight. Words fail to convey an idea of the sickening atrocities committed by the demons who overpowered the train men. Several of them were taken alive, tied to wagons and burned. An old woman was carried some distance from the place of attack, and then shot and scalped. Her grand-child had its ears cut off, was shot, and had its brains smashed out; while her daughter, the mother of the child, who witnessed also the death of her husband, was carried off by the fiends. More than one poor wretch crawled from burning wagons, after the ropes which bound them had burned off, only to burn to blackened, unrecognizable masses, with their charred hands and faces raised in positions of entreaty. The train had nine men with it. The remainder of the party were women and children. It is feared one woman was taken away by the band, though it is possible that she as well as the other body unaccounted for was burned to ashes with the wagons. It is reported that the band consisted of from one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred and fifty men, and was composed of Indians, Mexicans and deserters from the army. A number of arms and supplies of ammunition were taken from the train by the band before burning it. How many arms I cannot say. It was the supply which was lately sent from the arsenal at San Antonio to Fort Stockton.

General Augur, in this report, expresses the opinion that the Indians came from Mexico, and this belief is sustained by the fact that Mexicans and deserters from colored regiments were with them, such deserters universally escaping into Mexico.

BILLS APPROVED.

The President has approved the following bills: An act to provide that minors shall not be enlisted in the military service without the consent of their parents or guardians. Declaring the lands constituting the Fort Collins military reservation, in the Territory of Colorado, subject to pre-emption and homestead only, as provided in existing laws. Authorizing the West Wisconsin Railroad Company to erect and maintain a bridge for railway purposes across Lake St. Croix at the city of Hudson, Wis. To establish the pay of enlisted men in the army. To establish a system of deposits to prevent desertion and elevate the condition of the rank and file of the army.

A DENIAL.

There is authority for denying the truth of the statement that President Grant, in conversation with Ohio Republican Congressmen, recently said that in case of his re-election he intended to make a general change of office-holders throughout the country, and, as a rule, he did not believe any person who held office during one administration should be retained during a succeeding one, but it was simple justice to keep all faithful officers until they had served four years. It is denied that the President ever held such conversation.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, May 16, 1872.

LIBERAL TROUBLES.

The election of Senator Ferry, in Connecticut, is only a slight balm to the wounded spirit of Cincinnati adherents. The deadly wound inflicted by Hon. Daniel Voorhees, continus to gangrene, and to threaten the life of the party so recently born of tribulation. Its sore head begins to droop and its Dolly Varden quivers with emotion, at every day's report of States speaking out for Grant.

The questions which Voorhees used, and which we here insert, can be multiplied by thousands. It must become obvious that no Democrat, having any regard for principle or self-respect, and who is not an office-seeker, can support a man who has repeatedly spoken of him as follows:

"Point wherever you please to an election district which you will pronounce morally rotten—given up in great part to debauchery and vice—and that district will be found nearly at or quite every election, giving a large majority for that which styles itself the Democratic party." "Take all the haunts of debauchery in the land, and you will find nine-tenths of their master spirits active participants of that same Democracy."

"May it be written on my grave that I never was a follower, and lived and died in nothing its debtor."

Evidences multiply that the Democracy will repudiate the Greeley ticket and substitute Davis, of Illinois, or Adams, of Massachusetts, in his stead, and the returned delegates from Cincinnati, finding that the Greeley nomination has been a failure, are to-day endeavoring to make combinations for selling him out. Greeley has been made a catspaw, and will find in two months hence that his nomination is as huge a joke as that of Victoria Woodhull or George Francis Train.

In the meantime the opposition is lying around loose, no one knowing what to do, or what position to take. Such a spectacle of demoralization cannot but inure to the benefit of the Republican party, which is virtually in the field to-day.

AIMS OF THE DEMOCRACY.

Not a few of the wisest Republican observers of politics see more reason to be uneasy about seeing a Republican majority in the Senate than the election of a Republican President.

The St. Louis Republican has already recognized and pointed out the aim of many of those behind the Cincinnati movement to secure a sufficient number of Democratic votes to elect outright, or to control the election of quasi Republicans so that they can determine the action of that House on all issues between Democracy and Republicanism.

COMMON SCHOOL PROGRESS.

The report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for Texas up to the end of December last has been received here. On entering upon his duties in the Spring of 1871 with hardly a school house, and no aid from any previous attempts at organization of public instruction in the State, he shows at the close of his report 63,000 children already in attendance upon public schools.

This is a great triumph for Republicanism in Texas.

THE TREATY IN THE SENATE.

The Washington correspondent of the New York World, in a special to the Baltimore Sun of to day, intimates in a significant manner that malcontents in the Senate will perhaps intrigue to render the ratification of the new article of the Washington Treaty impossible. He couples with this a proposed speech of Hon. Ben. H. Butler in the House against the treaty. The editor of the Sun had the hard sense, I am glad to say, to insert in the midst of this special, this reply—"the people want none of this nonsense, but a settlement fair and square.—EDS."

I have only to say that the man or set of men in Congress whose ambition or vindictiveness shall lead them so far away from the performance of a solemn duty to the country at this critical time, instead of earning fame, prominence or advancement, will sink so far into the depths of infamy, that there will be for any such no political resurrection possible. The great business and financial interests of the country in which all the people participate, require no childs play over this fair and square settlement. They will crush into nothingness, any little worm in the Senate Chamber who dares to interpose his brief authority to prevent a two-thirds vote of that body at the demand of this great nation for peace, repose and continued prosperity.

The N. Y. Herald yesterday published the correspondence relating to the additional article of the Treaty of Washington, through they refer to pending negotiations, and secresy was enjoined upon all concerned in their custody. This stealing of news is disgraceful to the parties engaged in it and to the country whose secrets are thus stolen.

A bill for the establishment of industrial homes and training schools for the orphans of soldiers who served in the late war, has been agreed to by the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, and bids fair to become a law.

George McDougal, brother to Admiral McDougal, died last evening from the effects of morphine taken while under the influence of liquor with the intent to commit suicide. He repented of the act when too late. AGATE.

TITUSVILLE.

Indignation Meeting.

TITUSVILLE, May 17.—A mass meeting was held in this city last evening, to express the indignation of the citizens at an attempt of the Oil Creek road in trying to prevent the Pennsylvania Petroleum road from crossing their track and entering the city. The road now has one thousand men at work, with sixty miles graded. It is expected to be running between Titusville and Erie by August 1st.

The attempt to consolidate the refining business of the country proved a failure.

POLITICAL NOTES.

GROSVENOR is "discouraged."

THE Chicago Times thinks Mr. Greeley, if made President, would devote his first year's salary to young men going West.

THE Missouri Democrat says: "The editor of the Atlantic Monthly has parted his hair in the middle, put on his spectacles, white hat and tight boots, and announced that he cannot 'vote for such a fellah as Grant.'"

THE Missouri Democrat respectfully asks: "As soon as Senator Schurz can spare the time he will please take the German vote of the United States out of his breeches pocket and transfer it to the coat pocket of Mr. Greeley." That was the bargain, and Mr. Schurz will be expected to carry it out.

HORACE GREELEY admits that "in a brief address on a steamboat deck at Vicksburg," he remarked that he "hoped the time would come when Americans north, as well as Americans south, would feel pride in the soldierly achievements and military character of Lee and Stonewall Jackson."

IF there is one quality which is indispensable in a President, it is sound judgment. If there is one public man who is totally destitute of it, it is Horace Greeley. A certain kindly feeling with which he is regarded will not blind the country to his natural unfitness for the office to which he has been nominated.

A DISPATCH from Richmond, Va., states that the Enquirer contradicts the statement that Governor Walker had pledged the Virginia delegation in the Democratic Convention to support Greeley. Governor Walker made no such announcement, nor did he foreshadow any course of action for the Conservatives in advance of an authorized expression of their opinions.

A COLORED man writes from Washington: "One of Grant's strong points is his hold on the colored people. They believe in him, and when they believe they 'stick.' No candidate at Cincinnati or elsewhere possesses their confidence except Grant; and I tell you now that the man the colored men of America prefer will be the President for four years from March 4th, 1873."

How doth the busy Horace G,
Improve each shining hour;
And looks for office every day
In every party's power.
How skillfully he builds his sells,
How neat he spreads the soap,
And when cues will not avail
Takes free trade as his hope.

CARL SCHURZ was not popular in the army as a military commander. The War Department sent him to Sherman when that great commander was "marching through Georgia." Sherman sent him to Slocum, then commanding the left wing of the army. Slocum, who was every inch a soldier, had no use for Carl, and so stated, at the same time asking what he should do with him. "Confound him! Drown him! drown him!" returned "Old Tecumseh."

THE Missouri Democrat says: "It was the bright idea of some liberal editor that the Cincinnati Convention should nominate a candidate who's name should be a platform in itself. We think the convention has done it, and we are unable to recall a single principle of any political party, living or dead, that Mr. Greeley has not advocated, and denounced. He should be a satisfactory candidate to all classes of men and women, without regard to age, sex, color or condition."

PRESIDENT GRANT has requested the resignation of Collector Casey, of New Orleans, in consequence of the testimony as to his conduct during the political troubles in that city, taken before the Congressional Committee. This testimony only was submitted to the President on Friday. We long since recommended Mr. Casey's removal, if the charges against him were not refuted, and we have no doubt that the action of the President will meet with popular approval.

CROP ITEMS.

THE Somerset Herald states that the frost has killed the peaches in that vicinity.

THE prospect of a fair average crop of whea in Cambria county is said to be very favorable.

THE Chambersburg Repository estimates that the wheat in Franklin county will fall below half a crop this year.

THE wheat crop throughout Mercer county looks well, and entirely sets at rest the alarm about a failure, so prevalent a few weeks ago.

THE Allentown Chronicle says: Considerable anxiety is manifested by our farmers in relation to the present hay crop. They fear the dry weather will make it a short one.

THE Meadville Journal says: The winter crop looks well in most places in this county, the hard frosts having benefitted rather than injured the soil. From present appearances the apple crop will be abundant in this section this season.

THE Connellsville Monitor says: From present indications, the people of this county have great reason to rejoice. As far as heard from, the refreshing rains have greatly revived the grain and pasture fields. Should the weather prove as favorable for the future as in the past we shall have good crops.

THE OLD RESERVES.

Re-union of the Survivors at Wilkesbarre.

WILLESBARRE, May 15.

The seventh annual re-union of the survivors of the Pennsylvania Reserve corps was held here to-day. The attendance was not large. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Andrew G. Curtin (re-elected; vice presidents, Maj. J. Merrill, Colonel R. Bruce Ricketts, and Col. T. F. B. Tapper; secretary, Charles Devine; corresponding secretary, Colonel John H. Taggert; treasurer, Captain J. W. Scott.

In the evening an eloquent oration was delivered in Music Hall by Hon. Wm. M'Clelland, of Lawrence county, member of Congress, before a large audience of citizens, after which Hon. W. W. Ketchum welcomed the Reserves to Wilkesbarre. He complimented them for their brilliant war record, and said that Pennsylvania should keep green the memory of the bravery of her sons.

The exercises were enlivened by a band of music from Scranton. After the oration a grand banquet was given at the Wyoming Valley Hotel.

The association resolved to meet next year at Gettysburg, and Chaplain J. H. Beale, of the 1st Reserve Cavalry, was selected as orator, and Colonel R. M. Henderson, of the 7th Reserves, alternate.

SPANISH CARLISTS DEFEATED.

Mutiny on the Steamer Edgar Stewart.

WEST INDIES.

THE STEAMER EDGAR STEWART.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Kingston (Jamica,) dates of the 10th inst., states that the steamer Edgar Stewart, with a cargo of war matarial for Cuba, but with clearance papers from New London for Key West, arrived there on the 14th of April. Prior to arriving at Kingston, she made a point at Cuba in the night, and sent a boat load of men ashore, who failed to return. She again put to sea and returned to the same point the next night, but the men did not come back to her. A number of Cubans on board and the stewart rose against her commander and took possession, but, being chased by a Spanish war vessel, restored him again to command, and he ran her into Kingston, reporting her "in distress." The captain preferred charges of mutiny against the crew, who in turn preferred charges of fillibusting against the Captain. The result of this litigation was that the vessel put in charge of the naval authorities at Port Royal. After an examination, the vessel was delivered to the United States Consul, she having been kept under the guns of the British steamer Plover. Meantime a Spanish war steamer arrived to watch the movements of the Stewart, and the United States steamer Wyoming also arrived. The captain of the Wyoming put an officer and crew on board the Stewart, and she will be sent to Key West, the Wyoming conveying her to prevent interference by the Spanish frigate.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE INDIRECT DAMAGES.

LONDON, May 17.—At a meeting of the Exeter Chamber of Commerce to-night, Sir Stafford Northcote, who presided, made a speech, in which he alluded to the negotiations preceding the signing of the treaty of Washington. He stated that the understanding of the British Commissioners was that a promise had been given that the claim for indirect damages should not be presented, but it was necessary that the American Senate should not be placed in a position requiring a confession that wrong had been done. On a previous occasion the matter had been treated in a statesman-like manner. No petty question was then admitted. If the Senate now dealt as it did with the negotiations last year, a settlement might be counted on as sure to be made.

The correspondence between the British and American Governments is published and commented on by the journals, which generally express a hope of a favorable decision by the Senate.

CANADA.

THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

OTTAWA, May 17.—In the House last night the bill giving effect to the Treaty of Washington was voted upon, and passed to a second reading. A vote was first taken on Bodwell's amendment, that it is inexpedint to proceed further with the bill at this time, resulting in its rejection—51 to 125.

A vote was then taken on Blake's amendment, that there is dissatisfaction throughout Canada at the mode in which Canadian rights were dealt with in the negotiations at Washington and the abandonment of the Fenian raid claims. This was also rejected.

The bill was then passed to a second reading —121 to 55. This practically ratifies and confirms, so far as Canada is concerned, the Treaty of Washington.

SPAIN.

CARLIST DEFEAT.

MADRID, May 17.—News has been received of a fight at Manaica and the defeat of Carlists, numbering 1,000, by the forces under General Letorna. The insurgents lost twenty-one killed and a large number wounded and prisoners.

INDIANA.

RUSHVILLE, RUSH CO., IND., May 15th, 1872.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Allow an old Pittsburgher to address your readers through the GAZETTE. The spring with us is truly magnificent, and seasonable in every particular, being neither too wet nor too dry. Corn is nearly all in, and some ready for the plough. Wheat, oats and grasses are growing splendidly, and give great promise of a bountiful harvest—a matter we never fail in here, and looked for, rain or shine. This is really a splendid county—farms as level as a floor, soil deep and of easy tillage. Had our farms good culture, system and thorough management brought to bear on this rich soil, fortunes might be amassed in less than a life time. The thorough Pennsylvania farmer would here cultivate one acre to a better advantage than the average Rush county farmer does three. This is a wasteful county. Producing lavishly, everything is fed and thrown to the stock carelessly and slovenly. What does your educated farmer think of turning one or two hundred head of hogs into a standing field of corn—hog-ing corn as we term it here. Cattle are fed in the same loose way. We want in this grand growing county, system and tact. We want some of those splendid stock farms so common among your hills. We want fine stock of all kinds, with your grand feeding and handling system. Land here is cheap. There is now in the market one of the best stock farms in the State, of over 200 acres, for the paltry sum of $75 per acre. This would bring, within seven miles of Pittsburgh, in any direction, $500. Land is cheap, but not for the want of good markets. We are between Cincinnati and Indianapolis, and are on the line of two railroads, one of which, the Lake Erie and Louisville, is controlled by the Pennsylvania Central. We ship here in any direction. Stock of all kinds is in demand, and realizing extravagant prices. We have churches of all denominations and good schools. L. N. H.

Easily Decided.

An amusing incident occurred this week in one of the outer wards, which is worth recording. A lady named Gangwetsch has made up her mind to perchase one of these useful articles—a sewing machine. By some mysterious means this fact became known to the army of canvassers, who rove from door to door, soliciting orders, and the house was soon fairly besieged. A lively contest ensued and the contestants were not satisfied with stations, the perfection, real or imagined, of their various machines, but proposed to make an exhibition of them on the lady's floor. Just as the contest was about to commence, a neighbor entered the house. She informed Mrs. G. that she had gone through the same annoyance, and stopped by buying a Singer Machine, and begged her (Mrs. G.) to visit her residence and see it in operation. This settled the whole matter and Mrs. G. now possesses a Singer Sewing Machine.

Suits for All.

Pittsburgh, however, is favored with a new establishment where goods in the line of wearing apparel can be had, at prices which in comparison with other houses are marvels, and yet every article is waranted to be free from all taint of shoddy and to be exactly as represented. We refer to the one price Boston store, No. 95 Howard's Block, Smithfield street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, suitable for the season, is always kept on hand. The stock just now is very full and complete, and our readers who would save about half their money and yet get just as good goods as they desire, should call at No. 95. Everything is fresh, and of the latest style, and the guarantee of the proprietors of the store accompanies each article. This is no old stock, but has been made expressly for the season, and is as good as can be had, if the goods were regularly ordered. Look at the stock.

A Delightful Stroll.

Those of our readers who appreciate the fine scenery, for which Pittsburgh should be famous, will thank us for directing them to a convenient spot of exquisite loveliness. Take the Connellsville cars to City farm or North Homestead Station, go up the new road to the plateau immediately above the station, and there opens to your view a vision of beauty that the Rhine itself cannot surpass. Miles shining river, green slopes, jutting bluffs and smiling valleys dotted here and there with cottages, farm houses and thrifty villages are taken in at a glance; but we will not attempt a description, only those who see it can comprehend its beauty. An hour's stroll among the surrounding forest trees, the ferns, the mosses and wild flowers is equal to a week of average "summer boarding." Go and see it.

Florence!

The Florence sewing machine needs no puffing to commend it to general favor, as its merits are easily perceived by any who will give the matter a few minutes' attention. It is the perfection of simplicity in mechanism, and is not easily put out of order. It runs smoothly, and is always in condition for work; and then it is so simple and easily run that the learner has little difficulty in acquiring perfect skill in managing it, and doing the sewing for the family. Every variety of sewing can be done with the Florence, and in each department the work is satisfactory. It can be seen in practical operation at the office of the agents, Messrs. Heckert & McKain, No. 8 Sixth street.

Everything from Messrs. Workman & Davis' manufactory is the best that good material and the most skilful mechanics can make it. There is no manufactory east or west, that this firm will allow to excel them either in moderate rates or superior manufacture. The warerooms No.'s 167, 169 & 171 Penn avenue, fully attest the great variety, finish and excellence of their work.

A MAN working in the white lead works, near the Monongahela bridge, South Side, took a fainting fit yesterday, and had to be carried home.

WHITE HATS may be seen sprinkled very sparingly through the crowds. Like a few snow flakes on an April day, they appear very much out of season.

WE would call the attention of readers who wish to borrow money, to the advertisement on the first page of to-day's paper, headed wanted to loan money.

THE Moosic Powder Mills, at Scranton, were exploded on last Wednesday, for the third time within eighteen months. The magazine, containing 4,000 kegs of powder, was fortunately not destroyed. The most remarkable feature of the accident was the fact that no one was injured.

J. ROSS WILKINS ESQ., a former resident and lawyer of Pittsburgh, died at his residence, in Detroit, on Thursday, oflast week. Mr. Wilkins was appointed Judge of the United States Court in 1837, and had served one term as Mayor of Detroit, where he was much respected and esteemed.

THE excitement on our principal streets, yesterday was occasioned by a strong minded woman appearing in the real genuine Bloomer style. Many of the boys and girls who noticed her, looked quite amused, and could not resist the temptation of following her. At some of the corners the crowd so jammed the sidewalks that the police had to interfere. We did not learn the lady's name, but judging by the cool way she conducted herself, we should say "she has traveled."

This is a highly commendable effort, and we trust our citizens of all denominations will supply the funds liberally, and encourage the few who are toiling and sacrificing in the work.

Arrest of Supposed Murderers.

In the case of Jerome J. Crawford who was found dead in Try street tunnel, a clue has at last been discovered, which led to the arrest of the supposed murderers. Yesterday morning Frank McConnell went to the Mayor's office and stated that he was with Crawford on the night of his death. He stated that they had been drinking in company with another man with whom Crawford had had some difficulty. Coroner West was notified, and committed McConnell for further hearing. McConnell then gave information which led to the arrest of the other man who was with them. He was arrested on Third Avenue without trouble, and made a statement similar to that of McConnell's. The parties are young men, and are reported to be quite respectably connected. They were committed to jail for a hearing.

All physicians will tell you to enjoy good health it is necessary to be cleanly. The heat and dust in a large city like ours, makes it a duty you owe to yourself, to bathe at least twice a week. The next thing is, where will you find neat, clean bath room's, with tubs large and comfortable. We know of no place in the city we can recommend with more pleasure than the Central Shaving Saloon bath rooms in the Central Hotel. Mr. Green, the gentlemanly proprietor keeps everything in good order, and takes great pleasure in waiting on his guests. If you want a good shave, a luxurious bath, neat hair cut, or a shampoo, try the Central. Entrance from Smithfield street.

THERE were affecting demonstrations after the Convention, which nominated Mrs. Woodhull for the Presidency, had completed its work. The spirit of Demosthenes passed into an ante-room, where she was congratulated by her friends. She was in ecstacy and shook hands all round, and a correspondent, anxious to be exact in the details, relates how "the ladies kissed her and embraced her, kissed each other, and kissed her again. I never before saw such kissing and hugging in public, nor, for that matter, in private either. Men were not afraid to pass hands round women who were not their wives, and women indulged in political osculation till they were tired."

And yet after all this lovely and touching display of rare affection, the perversity of some of the leading spirits in the Convention was not melted, and they went away breathing threats of bolting the nomination.

MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE, of this city, is named as one of the corporators of the Postal Telegraph Company, the bill for the incorporation of which is shortly to be introduced into Congress.

THERE are ten, out of forty newspapers in Ohio devoted to the advocacy of the Democratic party, that have fallen into line for Horace Greeley. In this State the number is not so great.

THE Tribune prospectus is issued, for a campaign sheet, supporting the Liberal ticket. We understand the agent was here a few days ago, and left very much discouraged. He said he did not receive one subscriber where formerly he got ten.

AN EFFORT is being made in some of the States to introduce the German and French languages into the common schools, with a view of making their study a part of the education of American youth. We think one language, in this country, is sufficient.

DOES it not appear singular that in this country we have nearly forty thousand deaf and dumb people. One would hardly imagine that we have among us so many afflicted people but the census shows it to be true. Thanks to the philanthropy of our citizens, most of the States have public institutions for the care and education of these poor and almost helpless creatures.

IN publishing the communications signed "Nemo" and "Calvin," we wish it distinctly understood that we neither affirm nor deny the positions taken by our correspondents. The subjects discussed are of great interest to many of our readers, and we comply with their request simply, by giving the use of our columns for the discussion. The upholders of the "Old" and "New" covenants will doubtless seek to prove the correctness of their beliefs. In the meantime we look on and endeavor to learn. We may have something, after awhile, to say on the subject ourself, as there is considerable of the "blue stocking" clinging to us. Since Nevin, in his "Black Robes" spoke so unlovingly of our early professors, we have been thrown, however, into a brown study, and we want light. We hope our correspondents will learn the strength of brevity and condensation, in newspaper controversy.

THE leading railroads of the country have agreed upon a scale of half-fare tickets for those wishing to visit the convention at Philadelphia on June 5th. We print below some of the points covered by this agreement with the rate fixed:

DEFEAT OF GENERAL HAWLEY.

For a year past indications have been given that a bitter struggle would take place in Connecticut, over the successorship to Senator O. S. Ferry. Every good Republican will deplore the defeat of his Republican opponent because of the way it was accomplished. So far as we can find, the previous political course of Senator Ferry had been satisfactory to the friends who placed him in the position. His military record during the war was that of a brave and skillful officer, his Republicanism was undoubted, as he had stood squarely up on all occasions to his professions and the principles of the party. Why a change was sought to be brought about, by the friends of General Hawley, we are at a loss to conjecture, except that personal prejudices or personal ambitions were too strong to restrain them. No one doubts that Senator Ferry is fully the equal of General Hawley, nor that he is in every way worthy of all confidence, therefore the attempt to oust him could not have had other than personal motives.

It has been customary in that State, as it should be in all States, to continue a worthy and tried officer at his post. In this way experience assists greatly to give that influence to a Representative which he should have. It is never good policy to change an unexceptionable officer merely to suit the whim or satisfy the ambition of some aspirant. When a man has proven himself unreliable, and acted in such manner as to outrage the feelings of his friends, or his own conscience, the sooner he is dropped by the party the better. But so long as he shall prove himself trustworthy, act in accordance with his honest convictions, and remain steadfastly true to his friends and his party, it is a mistake to attempt to displace him.

We are aware of the vast difference of opinion which always manifests itself in reference to the record and acts of one of our Representative men. We know how difficult it is to suit the whims and satisfy the desires of constituents; yet it is never difficult to give good reasons for one's course, when that course has been an honest, and in every way honorable and just one.

In the Connecticut case, General Hawley had proved himself an able and upright citizen, and had earned as an army officer, and Governor, popularity and fame. He had been honored by his party, but his ambition was not satisfied. He coveted the seat of Senator Ferry, against whom not one word could be said personally, politically or intellectually. In this condition of affairs, we do not much wonder that the faithful officer objected to the "kicking out" process of King Caucus, and finding a merely personal warfare against himself concluded that the best man should win. General Hawley, as editor-in-chief of the Hartford Courant, had not unfrequently written for his paper in a style which showed that he was not in any sense a strictly party man, but on the contrary, he aspired to the title of an "independent journalist," obeying the cliques and caucuses of his political party friends, in so far as they accorded with his convictions of right and justice. He cannot, therefore, complain that his own teachings have been brought home to him in a distinct, emphatic, though disagreeable, manner. Independence in politics is very good for "buncombe," but it is bitter, when its influence is turned against its professor and advocate. At such times there is a decided inclination to advocate the "rule of the majority," and "stick to the party at all hazards" doctrine. As we remarked before, we regret that General Hawley was defeated by a coalition of the friends of Ferry with the Democrats, but we have the compensating fact, that the latter is a good Republican in principle, and our party has suffered no defeat. Some good lessons may be drawn from the Connecticut contest, which will apply with equal force to others than the friends of General Hawley.

CHURCH AND STATE.

In What Sense They are One, And in What Sense They are Not.

First, as they have common duties to perform they are one. Secondly, as they have peculiar duties to perform they are not one; but separate and distinct.

First, as they have common duties to perform they are one. 1. It is a duty common to all members of church and State to believe with the heart unto righteousness, and to confess with the mouth unto salvation. And a duty that is incumbent on all the members both of church and State is also incumbent on both church and State as organic bodies. 2. It is the duty of both to take hold of God's covenant of promise, and to give themselves unto God in a covenant of duty. This they cannot do without faith, "for without faith it is impossible to please God," Heb. 11. 3. It is a duty of both to believe, love, fear and obey God; for all civil officers and citizens are moral agents, as well as church officers, and church members, for association does not destroy moral agency; and no moral agent can perform any duty without faith—without being in Christ, and without taking hold of God as his covenant God; for God deals with no moral agent without a covenant or agreement and all men are either under the covenant of works, or that of that of grace; if under the former, they are under all its curses, but if under the latter, they are heirs to all its blessings. 4. Civil and eclestical officers being alike ministers of God, and moral agents are also alike bound to be subject to, and enforce the moral law; each one in his own particular station the one as a church officer, the other as a statesman. 5. Both being by nature under the broken covenant are alike bound to confess their sins, as covenant breakers, and rebels against God's government; and also to take hold of God's Covenant of Grace as the only ground of salvation. The moral law makes these obligations common to every moral agent in the human family. But secondly, there are duties that are peculiar both to the citizen and the saint, to the church and the State; but every one that is what the moral law requires him to be, is, at the same time, both a citizen and a saint—an orderly member both of a scriptural church and of a scriptural commonwealth; and the moral law prohibits every moral agent to incorporate either with an unscriptural church or state; for it is said "be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers, for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness, what communion hath light with darkness, what concord hath Christ with Belial, what part hath he that believeth with an infidel, and what agreement hath the temple of God with idols.—2d Cor., 6. 14-16.

It is a duty peculiar to the State to have and exercise exclusive jurisdiction over all cases civil, and the Church cannot, without sin, refuse to render conscientious submission to the higher powers in the scriptural exercise of civil authority in the State.

2. It is a duty peculiar to the Church of Christ to have and exercise exclusive jurisdiction over all cases ecclesiastical, and the State cannot, without sin, decline to render a conscientious submission to the scriptural exercise of ecclesiastical authority in the church; the State being bound by the moral law, and its own covenant engagement to be faithful in maintaining and promoting, in its own station, true Christian liberty in the church of Christ, as well as true civil liberty in the State. In the Covenants National and Solemn League, all ranks both in church and State, united in swearing and subscribing to one and the same covenant, each one binding himself and his posterity unchangeably, and perpetually to perform all civil and ecclesiastical duties; and it is certain that the moral law can never require less than this. But why were the covenanters bound to take upon them all moral obligations, both civil and ecclesiastical? Answer—because each covenanter was bound by the divine law, to be a faithful member both of a scriptural church, and of a scriptural civil government—not of an unscriptural church or State.

Hence—the State—God's ordinance of civil government has civil jurisdiction over all its subjects, including all church officers and church members, within its geographical boundaries, not indeed as they are church officers and church members, but as they are citizens.

No church officer or church member can ever be exempted from being subject to God's ordinance of civil government scripturally administered. It is not, however, the prerogative of the State to inflict penalties on ecclesiastical offences, or ecclesiastical offenders; but it is the unquestionable duty of the State to punish all civil offences—though committed by church officers or church members—it is the duty to reward all good citizens for their loyalty, and to coerce and punish all rebels for their rebellion; and thus become a terror to evil doers and a praise of them that do well. And the church as an organic body is bound in its station to sustain the State, in the scriptural, but not in the unscriptural exercise of civil authority.

Again the church has ecclesiastical jurisdiction over all her members, and all are, by the Divine law, bound to be church members—all civil officers and citizens are bound, none can be exempted. All who decline the fellowship and jurisdiction of a scriptural church are in a State of open rebellion against God, and as long as they continue to decline the fellowship and authority of His church they are the objects of his wrath and indignation and without faith and repentance must perish for ever.

The church—her ministry—has received authority from Christ to go and teach all nations to teach them to observe all things whatsoever He has said to them in His word, (Matt. ii, 8, 19.) And this implies the obligation of all nations—of all rulers and subjects—to hear and obey all things whatsoever Christ has spoken to them in His word, whether it relates to religion or State policy; for all nations—every creature is bound to hear and obey the gospel, or perish forever. The ministry has recieved power to dispense divine ordinances to all nations, to every creature, to all civil officers, and citizens; for to teach the nations is to teach all their officers and citizens, or to preach the gospel to every creature. Again, the ministry has power authoritatively to enjoin on all classes the religious performance of all duties in every relation, both in church and State, and then it is the imperative duty of all citizens and church members unitedly to receive, observe and keep pure and entire all such religious worship and ordinances as God has appointed in His word. Because all church members are bound to be good citizens, and all citizens faithful church members; for, if citizens are not Christians they can perform no duties civil, social, or ecclesiastical, to the glory of God; if they are not Christians they can have no faith in God, no love to God, and no love to man; they are enemies both to God and man; "for the carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." (Rom. 8:7.) Take away from the nations a dispensation of divine ordinances, and then it may be said of them, "darkness covers the earth, and gross darkness the people;" they will then be "heathen sitting in the region and the shadow of death"—will be sitting "where there is no vision, and where the people perish." (Is. 60:2, Matt. 4:16, Prov. 29:18.) And these dark places of the earth will then be full of the habitations of cruelty, until God has respect unto his covenent. (Ps. 74:20.) 3—God has given to church courts power to exercise ecclesiastical (not civil) government over all civil rules and citzens; and it is their duty cheerfully to submit to it; for it is their bounden duty to be church members as well as citizens, and as they are church members, to be subject to church courts, and as citizens to be subject to civil courts. Then the duties of the citizen, and those of the saint are precisely the same; for if the the moral law binds every person to be both a citizen and a saint, then it follows that all the obligations both of the citizen and saint rest on every person, whether they will acknowledge it or not; for the same person or moral agent is both the citizen and the saint, and is therefore responsible for the performance of the duties of both.

Again, the law makes it the duty of the citizen to perform the duties of the saint, and the duty of the saint to perform those of the citizen; the same law prescribes the duties of both, and makes the duties of each the duties of the other, because it makes it the duty of the citizen to be a saint, and that of the saint to be a citizen. Hence, again, the covenant of the citizen and that of the saint is one and the same, because all the covenant engagements of the citizen and the saint rest on one and the same moral agent. It is the same moral agent that swears and subscribes to both the civil and ecclesiastical parts of the covenant. This moral agent acts in the character both of the citizen and the saint, hence, again, the spirit and principles of both are the same. Both the citizen and the saint stand related to God by the same covenant, both he and his posterity, like Abraham and his seed, "The promise that he should be the heir of the world was not to Abraham nor his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith." (Romans 4, 13.) The moral agent cannot be related to God by the covenant of works, as he is a citizen, and to God by the covenant of grace, as he is a saint. This would place him under the curse of the broken covenant, and under the everlasting covenant that is "ordered in all things and sure." (2 Samuel 23, 5.) This would make him, at the same time, an object of eternal wrath and a heir of eternal life, which would be a contradiction. It is the moral agent that is the covenanter, and he covenants with God both as a citizen and as a saint, by way of taking on himself and on all his posterity, all the obligations both of the citizen and the saint. and this moral agent, being both a citizen and a church member, is bound always to perform his civil duties as a citizen, and his ecclesiastical duties as a church member.

The Covenanter, having taken upon himself and posterity, forever, all civil and ecclesiastical obligations, neither he nor they can ever ignore any of these obligations without bringing upon themselves the great sin of breaking covenant with God, the Church, and the State.

1. God's covenant with his people is often called an everlasting covenant, (2 Ps. 23:5, Ps. 105:10.) It descends to all generations, Ps. 105: 8. "He hath remembered his covenant forever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations." See also (1 Chron. 16:15.) We are told in Gallatians, 3:15, "though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed no man disannulleth or addeth thereto." Jeremiah calls it a "perpetual covenant, not to be forgotton." (Chapter 50:5.)

2. Public social covenanting is an ordinance to be observed by the church and nation together. All classes in church and State uniting in swearing and subscribing to the same covenant. Among the covenanters under the old testament are named kings, princes, governors, nobles, elders, rulers, captains, priests. Levites, the principal of the people, the rest of the people, hewers of wood and drawers of water. "And the rest of the people, the priests the Levites, the porters, the singers, the Nethenims, and all they that had separated themselves from the people of the lands unto the law of God, their wives, their sons and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having understanding; they clave to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath to walk in God's law, which was given by Moses the servant of God," Neh. 10:28, see also Deut. 29:10—15; Josh. 24:1—25; 2 Chron 34:29—33; Neh. 9:38 and 10:1—29; Isaiah 19:18—25.

Finally, it is the duty or right peculiar to the magistrate to bear a carnal sword, by which to enforce the power, with which he is clothed; it is a right or privilege peculiar to the ministry to bear "the sword of the spirit, which is quick and powerful, and sharper than a two-edged sword piercing, to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit," with which to enforce their power." "The weapons of their warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God, to the pulling down of strongholds, casting down imaginations and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought, to the obedience of Christ." (2 Corr., 10:4.)

The magistrates deal with men's bodies, estates, and liberties; the ministry and church courts deal with the conscience. They have no power to touch men's bodies, estates, liberties, or lives; neither has the magistrate power to deal with the conscience. A christian magistracy is not absolutely necessary to the being of the church, but it is to its well-being; and the christian church is absolutely necessary to the well-being of magistracy. Without the magistracy there can be no right or power, gift or graces for the proper exercise of civil rule. Without the magistracy there is no power to coerce rebels, or be a terror to evil doers and a praise of them, that do well, until God gives this power, and these gifts and graces they have no existence, for there is no power but of God." (Rom. 13:1.) Without the ministry and church courts, there is no right or power, gifts or graces for the dispensation of divine ordinances—none to preach the Gospel to every creature, or teach all nations—none to administer the word and sacraments, or exercise the Keys of the kingdom of Heaven. The civil magistrate may not assume to himself the administration of the word and sacraments, or the power of the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven. These—the magistracy, and ministry, the church and the state, "are the two annointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth." (Zach. 4:14.) NEMO.

Messrs. Editors: In a kingdom like Scotland, England or Ireland, it is positively commanded by the God of Heaven to have a christian magistrate to rule over the people, or any other nation that has ever entered into covenant with God, as the former nations have done. He that ruleth over men must be just ruling in the fear of God. CALVIN.

Sickness of Forty Years' Duration Cured.

The cure related below is one of a very remarkable kind, on account of its long duration, and is well worthy of the attention of all those who may be afflicted with chronic disease of any kind, showing clearly that all such cases can be cured. It is that of Jacob Wagner, a respectable farmer, aged 63 years, of New Sewickley township, who has been in gradually failing health for a period of about forty years. The disease manifested itself by a continued cough and a wasting state of health, which, about the beginning of last October, culminated in an attack which showed that the lungs were becoming seriously affected. Mr. Wagner, in this state of his case, applied to Dr. Keyser, of this city, who, by a system of medicine of a restorative kind, has completely cured him and restored him to a state of health to which he has been a stranger for many long and weary years. His cure is thorough and complete, and evinces an amount of skill and perseverance in the treatment of such cases, by Dr. Keyser, which is rarely if ever attained in a life time. The cure was chiefly effected by Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, and is another of the many instances of the wonderful restorative power of that medicine, in the cure of every disease of long standing, especially those in which the pulmonary organs and the blood are deteriorated.

Dr. Keyser's office is at 167 Liberty street, in the rear of his Drug Store, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 P. M.; and on Saturday's at night.

A treatise on Lung Diseases sent wherever it is wanted.

HOW NOT TO DIE.

Thousands fall a prey to disease not because the maladies that affect them are necessarily fatal, but because they lack the requisite amount of active vitality to make a valiant resistance to the enemy. It is a wise precaution to keep the body always in a state of defence—always prepared to "fend off" the germs of epidemic and other disorders, and to baffle the evil influence of damp miasma and sudden thermometrical changes. There is no difficulty in doing this. It is a fact as well authenticated as that two and two make four, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose and for the simple reason that its invigorating and regulating properties are superior to those of any other medicine in the world. During the twenty years that it has been in general use, ample opportunities have been afforded to compare its medicinal properties with those of other preparations claiming to be of a similar class, and the result has been its adoption by the American people as the standard tonic of the age, its introduction into every civilized portion of the western hemisphere, and an annual sale which dwarfs into insignificance the demand for all its would-be competitors.

The record upon which its popularity rests is a curiosity in medical literature, for it includes an almost unlimited variety of human ailments and disabilities. In fact, no other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues, and it is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine.

The Gardner Fire Extinguisher.

The Ed. Journal of the Franklin Institute, April, 1872, says: "The Gardner Extinguisher seems to us to be well worthy of commendation, inasmuch as it combines all the good qualities of other machines with the special advantages of greater convenience of form, security of the stop-cocks from the action of the materials employed and of the perfect control of the stream of gas, and we can indorse it as the most practical of any yet made public."

The Gardner is rapidly superseding the old-fashioned extinguishers.

AUCTION SALES.

A Goodly Heritage,
AT
FLEMING STATION,
AT AUCTION.

A delightful ride of about twenty minutes through the Parks of Allegheny and along the shores of the beautiful Ohio, brings you to the most picturesque station on the P. F. W. & C. R. R., to a spot of cool waters, noble trees, grateful shades, and winding paths and ways, all so charming as to inspire the pencil of the artist Hetzel to transfer the scene to canvas, becoming one of the most beautiful pictures. This lovely hamlet at Fleming Station, only six miles from Allegheny and thirty minutes from Pittsburgh, with its nineteen daily trains to and from the city, over a smooth, solid and remarkably safe railway. Low fares, low taxes, and low price of land. It is rapidly improving.

This spring a beautiful plot of fourteen acres was divided into large desirable lots, which will be offered at Auction on Thursday, May 23d,

Upon the arrival of the 10:23 train from Allegheny, where and when every person in search of a home of his own for the present or immediate future, or wanting a good, safe investment of small or large means, should attend. Fleming is nearer the business parts of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, means and time of transit considered, than many places within the city limits. Apples, Grapes, &c., already planted. Churches, Schools, Stores and Postoffice near the property. Windward of the city, hence no smoke nor dust. Good society, beautiful drive, good driving road to Allegheny; no foggy smoke nor smoky fog; well drained; good water; level ground; cheap, good, accessible and low taxed land, better than bank stock. Six miles by steam on Ft. W. Road is nearer your business than one mile on the street cars. Finest outlet to the cities. Bid and buy. Be your own savings bank, your deposits secured by real estate. Price steadily advancing and population growing. Fine building stone near premises. Plans at Leggate's, 159 Federal street, Allegheny, and at J. F. Diffenbacher's, 80 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh. Free tickets, both ways, issued at Federal street station for the 10:20 Train, THURSDAY MORNING, May 23d. Take $20 with you and attend this sale. Title perfect. One-fifth cash, balance four annual payments.

On completion of the now fixed extension of Buena Vista street, there will be only one square to walk from this point. All assessed taxes for the opening of Buena Vista street and all other taxes for this year will be paid by present owner.

Persons wishing to live in this part of the city, out of the smoke and dirt, will be highly pleased with the situation of these lots. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 17, 1872.

The local money market is still working rather too close for borrowers.

The bank officers complain of being overrun for applications for loans, and it is trying their financial abilities to meet the wants of those having claims for accommodation in the way of discounts. There was a large amount of iron paper in the market to-day, most of which had to be carried over for a "more convenient season." This will cause, as it always does, a halt, and instead of buying largely, a hand to mouth policy will sure to be pursued, and business men will purchase nothing beyond immediate wants. Why money is scarce in Pittsburgh, when it is reported plenty in the cities east and west, is an enigma that a great many would like to have solved. The only answer that can be given, that we know of is, that the amount of capital owned and controlled here, is inadequate for the amount required for the active and successful prosecution of our large and increasing trade. A few years of business, such as we have had for the past twelve months, with a proper showing up of the natural advantages of soil, climate, minerals, water and railroad facilities, must attract a sufficiency of capital for all legitimate purposes.

The savings banks of Pittsburgh are doing much in the way of helping, not only small, but very often large borrowers. All out-caring institutions where they have been managed with any kind of prudence, have been beneficial alike to both the depositors and stockholders.

There was nothing doing in local stocks during the day. The Triumph Oil Company will declare next week another five per cent dividend, with enough oil on hand to make it ten. This is one of the best paying oil stocks in the market.

The Boston Post says: A sweet-toothed urchin whose hankering for sugar plums is mollified by cloying, resembles in some respects many borrowers of money—"children of a larger growth." Satisfy them that the market is easier, and likely to remain so, and it is wonderful how suddenly their wants dwindle. We should say good paper might be quoted ½ per cent. lower than on Monday. Call loans nominally 7, or a fraction below, with very little inquiry.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 17, 1872.

ASHES—Soda Ash is quoted at 4¾ to 5 for common; refined, 5¼@6; nitrate, 5 to 5¼; pots, 10; pearls, 11.

APPLES—The market is dull and, notwithstanding the supply is light, it is equal to the demand; we now quote at $5 to $6 per bbl for fair to choice.

APPLE BUTTER—Common to fair 60 to 65 per gallon; prime to choice, 70@75.

BUTTER—Continues to arrive freely and the market is weak, though prices are without quotable change; sales of solid packed at 20 to 25, and it is difficult to get over 25 for choice roll. The inquiry is mainly for roll, and it sells more readily than packed, notwithstanding it may be no better in point of quality.

BROOM CORN—Is very dull but there is no quotable change in prices; we continue to quote at 5 to 8 cts per lb, according to quality.

BEANS—Scarce and prices are higher; small sales within the range of $2,50 to $3 per bushel for fair to prime, and $3,25 for choice.

CHEESE—Continues to arrive freely, but, with a steady demand, stocks have not commenced to accumulate as yet and prices are still maintained; sales of Ohio Dairy at 12 to 13 and Goshen at 15@16.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,50 ⅌ case.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches (3 lb cans) $6,00 to $7 per case; Tomatoes $4,50@5; Corn, $5,50@7,00, according to quality and brand.

CEMENT—Louisville $2,50 to $2,75; Calcined Plaster $4,50; Cleveland white Lime, $2; eastern, $1,75.

COUNTRY BACON—Quoted at 4½ to 5 cts for Shoulders; 6 to 6½ for Clear Sides, and 8 to 9 for Hams. Country Lard, 7 to 8 cts, according to quality and condition.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples scarce and selling readily at 8 to 10 cts for common to prime. Peaches dull and the offerings continue liberal, and there is no improvement in the demand; sales, in a jobbing way, at 9 to 9½ for halves; 7 to 8 for mixed; 6 to 7 for quarters, and 15 to 20 for peeled. Blackberries, 15 to 16; pitted Cherries, 26 to 30; unpitted, 6 to 8.

EGGS—Are coming in freely, and the market is weak and prices drooping; 14 cts may be given as the ruling quotation, though it was rumored that some few sales had been made at 13½. Dealers have to rely entirely on the local trade as there is no outlet.

FEATHERS—No. 1 quoted at 75 wholesale, and 80 to 85 in a small way. Mixed Stock, 40 to 60 cts, according to quality.

FLOUR—Is steady with a fair local trade, but the market is less excited, and buyers generally are taking hold sparingly, under the belief that they have nothing to lose by holding off; we continue to quote, in a jobbing way: at $8,75 to $9,25 for fair to choice Spring wheat, and $9,50 to $10 for red winter wheat. Rye Flour quiet and unchanged at $5,75 to $6.

GRAIN—The wheat market continues firm and considerably excited, and considerable apprehension is felt in regard to the future. As might be expected, there is a wide diversity of opinion among dealers in regard to the future course of the market: some are impressed with the belief, in consequence of the unfavorable reports in regard to the crops, that prices are destined to go still higher; while others, equally well posted, contend prices are already entirely too much inflated, that there is nothing really in the situation at present to justify it, and they anticipate an early reaction; they also argue that there is still considerable old stock in first hands, and that as soon as the farmers get through with their flurry, caused by the lateness of the season, that they will throw their surplus wheat on the market, in order to realize the advanced prices. We continue to quote at $2,15 to $2,25 for red, and 3 to 5 cents more for white; it is but proper to remark that the mills here are unwilling to go above $2,15 to $2,20, but we understand that some sales have been made to country mills at $2,25. Oats firm and tending upward; we were reported sales of several cars to-day at 55 to 56. Shelled Corn is also firm, with sales reported at 67 to 70, for mixed to prime yellow. Ear Corn is scarce, but the inquiry is mainly for small lots. Rye is scarce but prices are unchanged: $1,00 to $1,05. Nothing doing in Barley, and, in the absence of sales, we continue to quote at 75 to 80 for Spring, and 80 to 85 for Fall.

GROCERIES—The market in a general way presents but little that is really new or important. Coffee continues strong, but there is no improvement in the demand—jobbers are still undecided as to whether the proper time has arrived to stock up; however the advices from the east have been exceedingly bullish for some days past, and if prices do not advance sharply, it will not be the fault of the importers. Sugars are steady but unchanged. Syrups are dull, and prices are as low, if not lower, than they have been at any time this year. There is a fair demand for choice New Orleans molasses, and holders generally are stiff, in consequence of the limited supply, not only here, but all over the country.

REFINED SUGARS.—Standard Hards, 13; A Coffee, 12; B, 11¾; Ex C, 11⅝; C Yellow and Circle C, 11½. These quotations are for straight brands.

COFFEE—Rio—Choice, 24½@25; Prime, 23½@24; Good, 23; Fair, 22½. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 27; lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10¾; Good, 10; Fair, 9½. Choice Porto Rico, 10½; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES.—Choice, 75; Prime, 70; Good, 65; Fair, 60.

SYRUPS.—Fancy White Drips, 70; White Honey, 60; Havemeyer & Elder's, 60@62; other grades, from 40@50.

RICE.—Carolina—Choice, 9½; Prime, 9¼; Good, 9. Rangoon, 8@8¼. Patna, 8½@9.

SPICES.—Grain Pepper, 24; do Pimento, 16; Cassia, 50; Cloves, 25; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—Is firmer and the demand is better, although by no means active; we are reported sales of baled, on wharf and track, at $27 to $32 per ton, according to quality.

HOMINY—Is unchanged at $4,50 to $5 per bbl.

OILS—No. 1, extra lard oil is quoted, in a jobbing way, at 78@80 and No. 2 at 60 to 62.

POTATOES—Continue very dull and the market is overstocked; we are reported sales by the car load, at 55 to 60 cts—may be quoted in a jobbing way, in store, at 70 to 75cts, the outside figure for Peach Blows.

POULTRY—Live Chickens may be quoted at 75 to 85 cts per pair, by the coop.

PEA NUTS—Sales at 8½@9cts per lb.

PROVISIONS—Plain shoulders, 6cts; sugar cured do, 8cts; ribbed sides, 7¾cts; short rib, 8cts; clear, 8½cts. Breakfast Bacon, 10¼@11cts; plain sugar cured hams, 11¼; do, canvased, 12. Lard: in tierces, 9¼; in kegs, 10¼; in buckets, 11. Mess Pork, $14½. Dried Beef, 17½. Ham sausage, 10.

RAGS—Sales at 4@4¼cts per lb.

SALT—Is still quoted at $1,85 per bbl by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—The season for both Clover and Timothy seeds is about over, and the stock in this market is almost exhausted. There is a steady demand for Flax Seed, and it may be quoted at $1,90 to $1,95.

TALLOW—Rough 8¼@9cts

WHISKY—Highwines firm, and higher: we now quote at 90c by the car load, and 92 for small lots.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 17, 1872.

The pig iron market continues very quiet and, at this writing, there is but little prospect of an early improvement; the situation is substantially as it has been for several weeks. There is but little iron pressing on the market, and there is but little wanted; the mills generally are pretty well stocked, and are only buying when forced to do so—to keep up mixtures, hence we have but few sales to record. However, good red sheet irons are held as firmly as ever, and, so far as we can learn, the furnacemen are unwilling to make the slightest concession in order to effect sales, but it is equally true that no considerable amount could be sold unless prices were reduced, for the reason already stated, mill owners do not want it. The lower and medium grades of metal are dull and prices are irregular and lower.

The market for Tinsheet Iron and Nails is steady and fairly active and prices are fully sustained. It is true orders are not coming in as freely as in March and April, but the mills are busily engaged in filling old ones—some of them are reported as having enough of these on their books to keep them for sixty days.

Wheat in the West—Was the Recent Advance Caused by Speculators?

A letter from Peru, Ill., under date of May 14, addressed to the Chicago Tribune, refers to wheat as follows:

In your paper of the 9th instant you publish a communication from a correspondent here, calling himself B. F. Breuster, who made such false statements in regard to the quality of wheat in this country and the growing crop, that I deem it proper to contradict him. In the first place, there is no such person as B. F. Breuster here, which fact warrants the belief that the communication was sent by some interested party for the purpose of flating the price of wheat, which is now much higher than it should be. Your correspondent stated that the country mills had stopped for want of wheat, but I would inform you that there is a mill in La Salle which is running every day in the week, and selling family flour at $5,35 per 100 lbs. The retail price of Minnesota spring wheat flour in Peru to-day is $3,75 per 100 lbs., out of the flour stores at that. There is abundance of wheat in the country, and it will begin to arrive in Chicago very freely within the next ten days; and the receipts of corn in Chicago, from this time forward, will be enormous. A large area of spring wheat has been sown this spring, and it looks remarkably well. Let the grain speculators of Chicago stand from under, or the avalanche of grain which will soon reach Chicago will crush them.

Yours truly, G. S. SMITH.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 17, 1872.

Crude was reported firmer to-day; and, as compared with yesterday, prices are a shade higher, though irregular, ranging from $3,97½ to $4,05 at Parker; sales of 500 at $3,97½, and 1,000 bbls at $4,05. Refined—May, 23¾; June, 23¼; July, 24; June to August, 24; market very quiet but steady—there has been but little change in prices for several days.

Oil Barrels reportedy at $1,80 to $1,85 for city make on spot, and 10 cts less for country. The advance, as noted in our last report, is in consequence of diminished receipts from below, caused by the suspension of navigation and the strike among the coopers.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with 2 feet 9 inches in the channel. Weather last evening, cloudy and warm, with every indication of rain. There was rain at Cairo and St. Louis on Thursday, and it is hoped we will not have to wait much longer for it here.

The Granite State, for Portsmouth, arrived and departed. The Exchange was discharging iron ore at the works of Lewis, Oliver & Phillips, in the afternoon, and was expected to reach the wharf last evening.

The Mollie Ebert, it was rumored, is laid up at or near Wheeling, waiting for water. The Juniata was to have left Cincinnati for this port yesterday.

The Brill, Capt. M. A. Cox, is announced to depart for Nashville on the first water.

The towboats Boaz and A. J. Baker are laid up at McKee's Rocks, and the J. A. Stone and James Gilmore at the foot of the "Sisters".

The West Virginia, Capt. Patterson, is the regular independent packet for Brownsville and Geneva to-day, leaving promptly at 3 P. M. She is a neat and staunch little steamer, and should be liberally supported by the people of the Monongahela Valley.

—The Rev. C. K. Marshall, of Vicksburg, is about to sell a portion of his interest in the Vicksburg wharf for $85,000.

—The Lucy Kern has quit the Yazo trade for the summer, and the Belle Yazo is now making two trips per week from Vicksburg up that stream.

—A New Orleans telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: The steamer Bee with barges, hence for St. Louis, exploded a steam pipe, opposite the upper part of the city, and killed the first engineer, James Connelly.

—The steamer Ouchita Belle, a fine craft, is unfortunate. At suit of Andrew H. Gay, the Marshal has seized the pretty boat, and advertises the fact that he wishes to sell her, and wants to know why she shall not be condemned and sold agreeably to praying libelants.

—The bill granting to the St. Louis "Carondelet Bridge Company" a charter to construct and maintain a bridge across the Mississippi at Carondelet, for railway and general traffic purposes, is now before Congress. Those opposed must say their say now, or forever after hold their peace.

—Capt. T. P. Leather's contract to carry the Saturday mail from New Orleans to Vicksburg for $10,000 per year, counts from February 1st, and extends to June, 1875. G. L. Koun has the contract for the Tuesday and Wednesday mail, and he relets it to Cannon & White. He originally had the whole thing, but Leathers declined to carry it for him at any price, hence the recent arrangement.

—Captain Wm. Thompson, of Paducah, is preparing to build a new steamboat hull for Capt. Simms, of the Talisman. The boat will be a side-wheeler 160 feet long, of 32 feet beam, 10 feet guards, 5 feet depth of hold, and will draw 16 inches light. She will be ready to launch by the middle of July, and will have the machinery of the Talisman, which will be altered to suit. Her cost will be about $12,000.

—The Tidal Wave will run as a regular packet between St. Louis and St. Paul and Stillwater, taking the place of the Arkansas, who with the Ida Fulton and Diamond Joe, will run from Fulton to St. Paul and Stillwater. Eighteen thousand dollars was the price paid for the Tidal Wave, and not $12,000, as was reported. She will be two years old on the 16th of next August. Captain Lamont thinks he has made a good bargain.

—The Cincinnati Gazette of Thursday says: The Columbia left for Magdalena River, South America, without freight. Pilots to New Orleans Gus. Autenheimer and Henry Newell. It is said that Pilot Autenheimer contemplates going to South America to learn Magdalena River, that he may act act pilot on a stream where no government license is required, no local inspectors are employed by government; and the pay is many dollars per month in gold.

The Appointments at Annapolis and West Point.

The committee named to recommend applicants to fill the vacancies at West Point and Annapolis, concluded their labors yesterday. The board report to Gen. Negley that E. E. Dravo, of this city, came out most satisfactory for the West Point position; and Harry C. Shaw and Dick D. Coulter as the next best. For the vacancy at Annapolis, Harry C. Gearing, of East Birmingham, stood the highest, and George H. Smith next best. The board recommend several persons to the General, so that if those intellectually qualified were not physically perfect, the next best would stand a chance. The committee of examiners do not in themselves make the appointments, but recommend, for the more strict scrutiny of those more conversant with military affairs.

The system of appointments from merits, is a vast improvement over the favorite system; where they were chosen without any worthy quality. The merit system was introduced by General Moorhead, he filling the vacancies in this district by this plan. Although a great many make their appointments by the favorite system; the one of merit is gaining steadily and must soon take the field alone. Each district is allowed to have one cadet at each place at the same time, the appointments being made every four years, unless a promotion or death occurs, when another is appointed.

The Light Fingered Gentry.

About half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon an elderly man who had evidently imbibed to about the extent of his capacity, got on a Citizens' Passenger Railway car going towards Lawrenceville. He threw himself around pretty loose generally, with an independent swagger of one who had plenty of money and had been enjoying himself by spending it. When his fare was demanded was took particular pains to display a large roll of greenbacks which he pulled from his pants pocket. After paying his fare he took of the paper which he wrapped around his money and threw it out the window, putting his money back into his pocket. Presently a well dressed gentleman who had been sitting next to him, left the car, and a few moments afterwards the victim had occasion to look for his money, but it was not to be found. His pockets were turned inside out, but with the same result. At last light seemed to dawn upon his clouded intellect and he began to conclude that he had become the victim of the wiley manipulations of the light fingered gentry who sat by his side. He seemed to view his loss with a truly philosophic reasoning, remarking that it was no use to cry over spilt milk. The amount of money which he lost was about thirty dollars, mostly in small bills. He soon left the car, and when last seen was making very crooked tracks for a saloon in which to drown his troubles by investing a ten cent stamp which had escaped the clutches of his light fingered friend.

LAYMEN'S INSTITUTE.

Second Session—Friday Evening.

The second session of the Laymen's Institute convened pursuant to adjournment last evening in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association. Thomas Bakewell, Esq., occupied the chair. After the usual devotional excercises, Rev. Thomas H. Hanna was introduced and delivered the opening address on the topic—"Bible study for personal benefit."

He introduced his subject by saying that as the sun is the source of all light, power, heat and beauty in the natural world, so for everything pertaining to the best interests of man we look to the bible as its source. Precious pearls can only be obtained by earnest toil so the gems of divine truth can only be obtained by diligent and prayerful study. The reverend gentleman then proceeded to give examples from the lives of Christians of the great personal benefit of bible study. Above all, to receive benefit from the study of the word of God we must receive the illuminatory porwer of the Holy Spirit.

After singing a part of the 54th hymn and prayer by W. K. Jenning, William Bakewell, Esq., proceed to addressed the meeting on the subject, "Bible study as a preparation for Lay work."

Mr. Bakewell discussed his subject under the following three-fold division: (1) The Work; (2) The Necessity of the Work, and (3) The Means or Manner of Study as a Preparation for the Work. Teaching in the Sabbath-school is the most important department of lay effort. Our prisons are filled with those who need our sympathy. Visiting the sick, caring for the poor, is proper work. We need preparation for this work. We need purity, light, weapons of defence and attack, which is the Word of God. He believed that every congregation should be divided into Bible Classes, and taught regularly every Sabbath. He referred to the objections brought against the Word of God, and believed that good resulted from it in causing its friends to study more and vindicate it more triumphantly. He referred at length to the "Moabetish Stone," and pointed out what it had accomplished for the truth. Study the Bible intelligently, rationally. By earnest, prayerful study, the difficulties of the Bible disappear. He referred to instances where learned men said the Bible was inconsistent and wrong, but later discoveries have proved it right.

After singing a verse of the 92d Hymn, Rev. N. J. Rowland was introduced and proceeded to speak on the theme, "Bible Study in Relation to Conducting Meetings."

He believec that there is not enough of the devotional element in the Sabbath services. The case is generally different in prayer meeting. How can the leader of these meetings sudy the Bible to most advantage? First, there must be a general knowledge of the book. And then the audience must be studied, and the appropriate truths developed. The portion of Scripture read must be appropriate. Let it be short. The passage might be treated three ways. First, Energetically. Second, According to the subject, and third, the analytical method. Commentaries are as crutches. Let us study for ourselves. The Word of God contains in it all the light needed.

At the close of the addresses those present were invited to ask questions from the gentlemen that had spoken. Several important questions were asked and answered.

After singing the long meter doxology, the meeting was dismissed by Rev. Dr. McClarren.

This evening the closing session will be held. The subject will be "Open Air Meetings." Earnest and eloquent speakers will address the meeting.

BIRMINGHAM.

Business—Health—Religious Matters—Church Fair.

[Correspondence of Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Business on the South Side is exceedingly brisk, and our iron and glass manufacturers are reaping a golden harvest. That dreadful disease known as the small pox has nearly passed away, and the health of our town is becoming good. Religious matters are moving on about as usual. The "Ladies' Mite Society" of the First Methodist Church of East Birmingham held their anniversary meeting on last Thursday evening, when an excellent address was read by the President of the Society, Mrs. Rev. Colhoner, and the annual report showed that about five hundred dollars had been collected by this organization during the last three years. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, M. A. Calhoner; Vice President, Jane Prosser; Secretary, Rebecca Colwell; Treasurer, Jane Redman. The ladies of the Second Methodist Church are now holding a grand church fair in their new building on Twenty-third, between Jane and Carson streets. The proceeds are to be appropriated in liquidating the debt on the new church building. To all who desire to spend a pleasant evening and assist a worthy cause, we say come to the fair, where all kinds of refreshments can be had at reasonable rates. X.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—We call the attention of our readers to Mr. Bartley T. Campbell's comedy of fashionable life, entitled "Peril." It has had an unparalled run every evening this week thus far, and rather increases than diminishes. The company never appeared to better advantage than in this play. It will be performed this afternoon, and repeated this evening. We look for a crowded house, and suggest to all to apply immediately for seats.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Mrs. James A. Oates, the charming actress and vocalist, will play a brief engagement at the Academy of Music, under the superb management of Mr. V. E. Beamer. The excellent operatic burlesque of "Fortunio and his gifted servants" will be the opening piece. Their engagement begins on Monday evening with the above named piece. We think that they will be liberally patronized.

LIBRARY HALL.—Prof. O. S. Fowler, the distinguished phrenologist, will on Tuesday evening next, again greet us with his presence and deliver one of his highly interesting lectures, entitled "Life, Health and Self-Culture." The gentleman is thoroughly versed in all matters pertaining to his profession. Do not fail to hear him, and profit thereby.

P. T. BARNUM's Menagerie, Circus, Hippodrome and Mammoth Combination will give entertainments afternoons and evenings, at Union Park, Allegheny City, on the 30th, 31st inst., and 1st proximo. Barnum's name is known all over the country, and he undoubtedly is the greatest showman extant. His accommodations far exceed any other in his profession. Thousands will patronize him in preference to attending elsewhere. The people will rejoice at his coming.

A Snarling Dog.

A troublesome cat, a crying child, and a clattering sewing machine, are enough to drive a body wild. But the "Domestic" Sewing Machine runs so silently that it quiets everything else in the family, and produces happiness and tranquility.

The History of a National Remedy.—Here is the history of the most celebrated tonic of the age in a nutshell. In 1860 it was announced that a certain combination of vegetable ingredients, with a pure diffusive stimulant, was working wonders in the cure of chronic dyspepsia, nervous debility, liver complaint, periodical fevers, rheumatism and constitutional weakness. The unpretending name gave to the specific was PLANTATION BITTERS The statement attracted the attention of invalids everywhere. The new remedy received a fair trial, and the results more than confirmed all that had been said in its praise. Thence forward it was a grand success. The business columns of the press spread the glorious news far and wide, and the martyrs to indigestion, biliousness, physical prostration and premature decay, as if by common consent, sought relief from the new vegetable restorative. They found what they sought. From that time to the present the increase in the demand for Plantation Bitters has been one of the most striking events in this age. Clatter! Clatter! Clatter!

You hear it with the old-fashioned sewing machines, but the noiseless movement of the "Domestic" commends it to everybody who loves peace and quiet in the house.

THE REFINERY CONSOLIDATION.

Another Meeting of Refiners at Titusville—No Definite Action Taken.

The refiners of the oil regions haue been in session for a couple of days past at Titusville with a view of adopting some plan of operations by which the refining interests in that section might be consolidated and the business regulated to the mutual advantage of all.

Several plans were suggested, whereby the Refiners might enter a consolidation. By one plan it was proposed to organize an association of $2,000,000 capital Stock, one half to be obtained by loans, and the other from the property and oil thed by the various Refiners in the Consolidation; the officers to be a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, General Superintendent of Refineries, General Superintendent of Sales, and a Board of twelve Directors,—the latter having full power to buy, sell, and manufacture; and to control all the Refineries in the association; the profits to be divided in proportion to the amount of stock held by each firm of Refiners who joined in the consolidation; each refining firm, before becoming a member of the association, to be required to lease the refinery for five years.

Another plan provided for a division of the Association into six districts, to be known as the Cleveland, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston and Oil Creek Districts.

That the capacity of every refinery be accurately ascertained: that the refining capacity be reduced to the daily production, in the following manner; a committee consisting of one or two members from each district to be appointed to ascertain the value of a sufficient number of refineries, the owners of which are willing to accept fifty per cent. per annum on the estimated value of their works and enter into bonds not to run them; that all the refineries running pay a tax of one-third of a cent per gal., or as much as may be necessary to pay the per cent. above alluded to; that the actual cost of refining be ascertained; that a committee be appointed which shall name the price monthly below which price refined oil is not to be sold for the ensuing month, said price to be based on the market value of crude oil on the day the rate for the month is fixed; that the profit to be fixed by the committee shall not be more than two cents per gallon above the actual cost of refining; that all refiners bind themselves not to sell below the minimum fixed by the committee; that any refiner selling below the minimum fixed by the committee shall pay a forfeit of two cents per gallon on all such oil sold.

Both plans thus submitted were discussed at length by Messrs. Frew, Warning, Bennett, Allen, Pitcairn and others, but no definite conclusion was reached, and the Convention finally adjourned to meet again at the call of the Chairman. The general impression was that unless something could be done to regulate the trade, the majority of the refineries would have to be closed. Just before adjourning the Convention set forth its views clearly, by the passage of the following:

Resolved, That our object as a Convention is not to create any organization or corporation for the purpose of extorting unjust gains; but that our sole design is to protect ourselves from further loss in our business by an endeavor to obtain larger prices for our refined product, and thus enable us to pay a larger price to the producer for his crude product.

No Deviation.

At the great hat and cap house of Messrs. Wm. Fleming & Co., No. 139 Wood street, the one price system is adhered to at all times and under all circumstances and is as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians. As all goods are marked down to the very lowest figures at which they can be sold there can be no deviation from the rule without positive loss. And herein lies the great beauty and peculiar excellence of the one price system. For instance, if a higher price than the selling price were asked that alone would be sufficient evidence to the most superficial that the former would afford a large profit, while by the one price system this need not be apprehended. Messrs. Fleming & Co. are prepared to sell superior goods at lower prices than they can be obtained elsewhere in the city and to mete out equal and exact justice to all buyers by the rigid enforcement of this admirable plan of one price only.

Horace Greeley, when asked by his friends who he expects to organize his forces in Allegheny county, always remarks, he does not want any politicians here, as he has secured a large number of Mardorf & Co.'s brooms, and if he can't make a clean sweep of it, there is no use of trying, besides all good housekeepers use these brooms, and the old Philosopher goes on the principle, that if all the women side with him, their husbands will too. Be that as it may, we do know that these brooms are the universal favorite with housekeepers. Ask your grocer for them and take none other. They will wear twice as long, and give better satisfaction than any broom now in use. Remember Mardorf & Co.'s brooms are what you want.

Messrs. H. Sutmeyer Bro. & Co., southwest corner of the Diamond and Federal street, Allegheny, have on hand one of the best assortments of gentlemen's fine goods, childrens' ready made clothing and gents furnishing goods ever brought to this city, which they are disposing of at the most reasonable prices. Everything that bears the mark of this house will be found in style, and well finished. Gentlemen who are laying in a supply of summer goods should drop in and look at the stock.
